Royal Melbourne Poultry Show to land at Melbourne Showgrounds in 2018

After extensive consultation with poultry exhibitors and the development of a revised management plan, The Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria (RASV) has announced the Royal Melbourne Poultry Show will be held at Melbourne Showgrounds next July.

The organisation has worked with a number of poultry fanciers to develop the program and revise the competition model for 2018 after feedback received after the 2017 event.

RASV says the competition provides breeders with the opportunity to benchmark their birds with a wide range of Australian Poultry Standard classes available to enter. Delivery of the competition will also be increasingly supported by a number of committee members and volunteer coordinators.

The competition will open for entries in May, with further details to be released in the new year at <http://www.rasv.com.au/>.
